Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Improvement Era, Vol. 20: July, 1917 Our ?ag has experienced some very romantic episodes in its history. During the war of 1812-14, it ?oated over Fort Mc Henry, which became the scene on the night of September 12, 1814, of a heavy bombardment by the British forces. At the time, Francis Scott Key was on a ship in Baltimore Harbor, where he watched with anxious feelings the firing by the enemy. All day long, the roar of cannon continued. Into the night the bombardment continued. Key retired very late, expecting that on the morrow, the American ?ag would have been replaced by the Union Jack. Early in the morning, he came out on deck, and saw the Stars and Stripes still ?oating over the fort. So stirred was he, that he took an old envelope from his pocket, and sitting upon a box, he wrote the poem which is the most popular of our national anthems. The American ?ag was first sa luted by a foreign power, France, Feb. 14, 1778, when John Paul Jones anchored his ?ag-ship, the Serapis, in the harbor of Qui heron. From that day to this, the ?ag has come to be respected by every civilization, in the world. It stands for the highest ideals of liberty, freedom, and civic life, and is the sacred em blem of our United States, the Land of Promise.
